MILE NEEDS YOU!

Since MILE is an all-volunteer organization, our survival depends on constantly recruiting new, energetic, and enthusiastic volunteers to carry on the work. Volunteers are needed in all areas to be guided by those who have “on the job” experience.

Perhaps you will like to share a role with another member and become co-chair in an area of your interest. We urge you to put your skills to use to benefit the organization.

Currently we are searching for someone to become publicity chair or co-chair. This job is not difficult or time-consuming and is a seat on the MILE board. It involves writing a brief article about the coming semester and submitting it to a list of publications, TV, and radio stations. This is almost entirely done by computer using the skill of e-mail only. As mentioned before, the job could be shared if desired.

We also are still looking for help with AV. Training is available with Ben Jordan and Klaus Gumz.

There are other roles to be filled in the organization. Remember, if we are to continue to grow and offer quality programs, we must have new and committed members to share the work. If you are willing to contribute your time, call 860-343-5863 and leave a message, e-mail at mileatchapman@gmail.com, or speak to a board member at the next program you attend.

Consider becoming a monitor for one or more programs this spring.
